I'm not sure. I just spoke with Scott and he was getting ready to call her back.

Hall County certified earlier today, but still needs to combine their databases for their upload. Scott said Dominion will have staff there Monday morning to help with that.

Rick Barron just called me and said that their board is still talking about the certification and asking for explanations, but they started their meeting to certify at 3:00 PM. I told him that I thought them starting the process at 3:00 PM was a good idea. I asked him to let me know if they ended up NOT certifying. It sounds like they still may be a while away.

Chris,

I hope you and yours are doing well. I understand you have things going on right now and know that you are in our prayers. I am sorry to bother you with my little issues, but I felt that I needed to keep you abreast of what is going on.

I was trying to certify my results, but found a difference in the numbers. The Dominion Regional Manager came earlier this week and finagled with the Ballot ID's to get the number of votes cast to be correct and in doing this some of my votes are different. I am back home now going to go through the results tapes individually and try to figure it out. I may not be able to certify these results until Monday.

When I called the Regional Manager and told him about the problem, he told me "I don't have time to worry about it right now and it doesn't matter because he won". This was in reference to the Sheriff's race, but there are other races with different vote totals. Needless to say that was like throwing ice water in my face because IT DOES MATTER!!!! He was in Tattnall County trying to help them get their numbers to work as well due to this craziness with the Ballot ID's causing the vote totals to be way over what they should be.

Respectfully,

Brenda Hodges
